"RELUCTANT HEROES" VIDEO

An outstanding 60 minute videotape (VHS) on the great contribution of the Canadian Armed Forces to the building of our nation has been produced by the Conference of Defence Associates Institute. "Reluctant Heroes - Canada's Military Heritage" demonstrates the high price paid by so many Canadians for our current peace and freedom. Hosted by Tom Clark, the video graphically illustrates the contribution of Canada's military, from its earliest roots, through the rise internationally after the Second World War, to our prominent role internationally after the Second World War. It is available at a cost of $15.00 in English or French, from:
